POSITION OPENING: PROJECT ASSISTANT

The Participatory Budgeting Project (PBP) is seeking a highly motivated individual to support local implementation of a new participatory budgeting process in Greensboro, NC. Over the next year, the City of Greensboro will engage thousands of residents in directly deciding how to spend $500,000. The Project Assistant will support and be supervised by the Community Engagement Coordinator and work closely with other PBP staff, City staff, local partners, and community members to coordinate events, facilitate community engagement, and support participants. This full-time position will be based in Greensboro and will last 10 months, starting in August or September 2015, with potential extension.

ABOUT THE PARTICIPATORY BUDGETING PROJECT

The Participatory Budgeting Project (PBP) is a non-profit organization that empowers people across the US and Canada to decide together how to spend public money. We create and support participatory budgeting (PB) processes that deepen democracy, build stronger communities, and make public budgets more equitable and effective. Through our work with partners in over 12 cities, we have engaged 100,000 people in deciding how to spend $98 million.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Support the Community Engagement Coordinator in planning and logistics coordination for large scale neighborhood meetings, meetings of community volunteers to develop project proposals, and community-wide voting.
- Conduct community outreach.
- Facilitate communication and information exchange between the groups involved in the PB process.
- Assist community volunteers with developing spending proposals and vetting proposals with city officials and agency representatives.
- Contribute content to blog posts, websites, newsletters, presentations, reports, and other communications.
